Wilmington, we've been called to action again can you help? Last year, thanks to this amazing community, we were able to support many families in need. This year, that number is expected to double and it's still growing.

While our initial estimate was closer to 45 students, recent immigration-related challenges and circumstances beyond families' control have caused some to step back or remain unseen during this time. We respect those decisions and will continue outreach where possible. As of now, these are the confirmed students and families we are serving.

All 28 pilots and 132 of their family members have been adopted. Not including captains delivering those to captains families homes.

ANW A Needy Wilmington provides these financial updates voluntarily as part of our commitment to honesty, accountability, and good faith stewardship of community donations.

While nonprofit organizations are required to follow applicable federal and state reporting requirements, the detailed public updates we share about donations received, funds spent, and needs supported are provided by choice not because we are trying to prove ourselves, but because we believe our community deserves to see how support is being used.

Every donation entrusted to us is treated with care, and these updates are meant to show, in plain language, how contributions are put back into the students, families, and community needs we serve.

Small legal note: nonprofits do have required filings, like IRS public inspection rules for Form 990 and California charity annual renewals, but our extra community breakdowns are generally a voluntary transparency practice.

Grassroots Support & Human Dignity Statement A Needy Wilmington operates through a grassroots, community-first model guided in part by the principles of Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs. We believe that before recognition, publicity, or acknowledgment comes the responsibility to protect a person's basic human needs, dignity, emotional well-being, and sense of safety.

Our approach focuses on:

- Identifying the need
- Understanding the purpose behind the need
- Finding the most respectful way to fulfill the need
- Creating a positive and meaningful outcome for the individual or family receiving support

Because of this philosophy, there may be times when photographs, names, personal stories, or identifying details are limited or intentionally withheld. Some individuals and families may be experiencing hardship, emotional distress, insecurity, embarrassment, or concerns related to privacy, self-esteem, safety, or belonging.

We believe no person should feel obligated to publicly display their struggles in order to receive compassion, assistance, or community support.

While transparency and accountability remain important to our organization, we also recognize that human dignity matters equally. For that reason, we strive to balance responsible reporting with respect for the emotional and personal well-being of those we serve.

At the center of our work are the needs that matter most: food, water, shelter, clothing, emotional support, safety, stability, belonging, and hope.
